SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT LIFE CYCLE

LECTURE 02

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- I can recall the potential stakeholders in a software project
- I can summarize the responsibilities of each role in a software project
- I can match a set of responsibilities to a role/stakeholder in a software project
- If asked for the responsibilities of a specific role, I can tell the most important thing and maybe a few other things that flow out of that
- I can recall the 6 to 8 stages of the SDLC, and map them to the beginning, middle, and end of a project.
- I can summarize each of the stages of the SDLC.
- Given a task or activity, I can identify the appropriate SDLC stage where that activity would most likely belong.
